On the 2nd day of the conference, the forenoon theme sessions were handled by Dr. Johnson Jament. He delivered a comprehensive lecture encompassing two fundamental themes in academic research: "Methodological Foundations of the Research Process" and "Inclusive Research." He commenced with an exploration of the research process, elaborating on its stages – from the formulation of a research question, literature review, and methodology selection to data collection, analysis, interpretation, and eventually, reporting the results. Dr. Jament underscored the importance of choosing a methodological approach congruent with the research question and emphasized the role of scientific rigor and ethical considerations in all stages of the process. Shifting focus to "Inclusive Research," he advocated for participatory research paradigms that promote the active involvement of marginalized and underrepresented groups in the research process, both as subjects and co-creators of knowledge. He elucidated that inclusive research not only facilitates more equitable research practices but also enriches academic inquiries by incorporating diverse perspectives. The lecture, thus, offered a holistic overview of research methodology while foregrounding the importance of inclusivity, equipping the audience with vital insights for undertaking responsible and impactful research.

The afternoon session was for presenting papers. Faculty members, research scholars, and postgraduate students were divided into 10 Zoom rooms.

In the forenoon theme session, Mr. V Sriram conducted an insightful lecture on "Menace of Plagiarism in the Era of AI: How to be on the Safer Side?" and "Significance and Challenges of Reference Management and Open Source Tools (Zotero)." In the first part of his lecture, he outlined the rising threat of plagiarism in the age of artificial intelligence (AI), emphasizing how easy access to vast online information and AI-driven paraphrasing tools can inadvertently lead to plagiarism. He suggested strategies to avoid this pitfall, including rigorous citation practices, utilising plagiarism detection software, and nurturing a strong understanding of the concept and consequences of plagiarism. Transitioning to reference management, Mr. Sriram illuminated the significance of effective reference management in maintaining the integrity and quality of academic work. He outlined the challenges researchers face, such as keeping track of numerous sources and citing them correctly. He then introduced open-source tool Zotero that can help in overcoming these challenges. By effectively managing and
