ANNUAL REPORT

2019 – '20

INTRODUCTORY NOTE OF PRINCIPAL

With a rich history spanning 63 years, St. Joseph College of Teacher Education for Women has been instrumental in nurturing educators to face global challenges. Guided by divine providence, the college has earned recognition both locally and globally under a well-established management. Emphasizing values alongside academics and extracurricular, it shapes students into self-sufficient individuals ready for lifelong learning. Fostering a sense of global citizenship, the institution equips teachers to adapt to an ever-evolving world. By promoting holistic development, it instills empathy and social consciousness in educators, ensuring they positively impact society.

The entire St. Joseph community, comprising management, faculty, administrative staff, students, Parent-Teacher Association (PTA), and supporters, is appreciated for their collaborative endeavors. The institution prioritizes on-going enhancement, engaging in discussions during staff council and IQAC meetings to assess previous accomplishments and pinpoint opportunities for improvement. Feedback from students, faculty, employers, heads of teaching practice schools, and alumnae is highly regarded, prompting essential refinements in operational procedures. St. Joseph takes pride in its outstanding performance across various academic fields.

ADHERING TO ACADEMIC SCHEDULE

A proper blend of academic pursuits and co-curricular activities in a harmonious way is taken care of while charting the B Ed Programme so as to harness their energy in creative pursuits. Our college has always encouraged our teacher trainees to actively participate in both, academic and co-curricular activities essential for the personality development of the teacher trainees. Their talents, skills, and abilities are identified, nurtured, and encouraged, so that they reach greater heights. Students are provided with a platform to think, express, and exhibit their skills. It is heartening to report that our students have not only participated but also won several prizes in various inter-college events.
