EDU 302.1 : ACTION RESEARCH

The action research was conducted in an online mode, whereby the action hypothesis were formed but could not practise in school. The general topic selected was the difficulties for students when studying mathematics in online mode. I have selected the topic 'Difficulty in understanding the topics Geometry and Construction in mathematics through online mode. The action research report was submitted on 21/01/2021.

8/22

It was a nice experience. Even though the same was not able to be conducted in school, we could know the steps involved in it. I also be able to learn how to form the action hypothesis. I became more aware of the problems of school students.

COURSE CODE : EDU-203

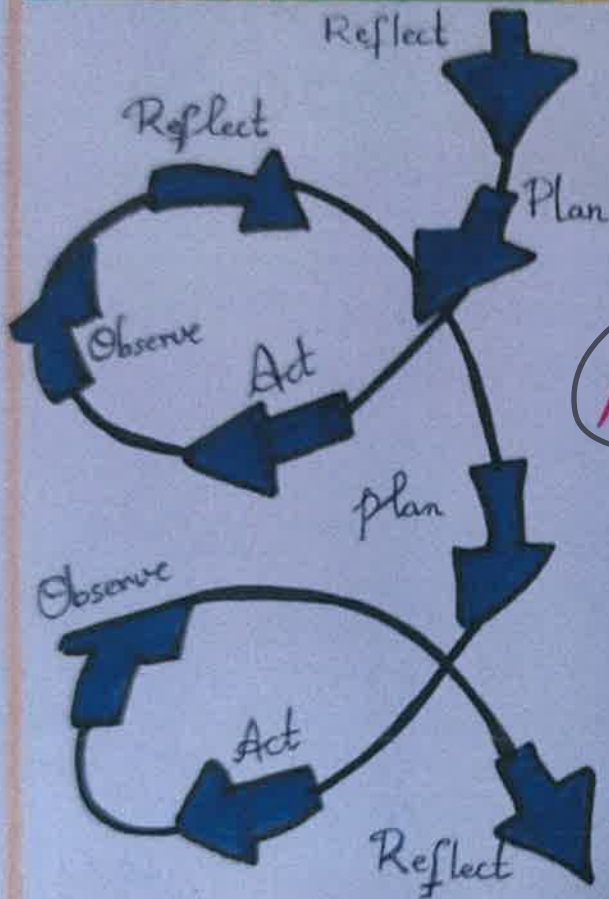

COURSE NAME : CORE

DATE : 10/03/2022

EVIDENCE : REPORT

Objectives

- To identify the common area of difficulty faced by students of class-9 in learning chemistry
- To find the causes of the problem
- To devise suggestions and recommendations for improvement in the problem area.

ACTION RESEARCH

As part of the B.Ed internship programme at Our Lady's C.G.H.S.S Thoppumpady, an action research was carried out on the topic "Study on the difficulties faced by students in writing

Chemical symbols and formulae. The topic was selected after observing the class for a month. The supporting data was collected by administering a self-assessment tool to the students of class 9 and through an interview with the concerned subject teacher.

Reflection

Action research is a useful tool to deal with common classroom problems. Through the present work I was able to devise strategies that can be implemented to help students strengthen their understanding of the fundamental aspects of chemistry.

Action Research (Practical)

Problems faced by students in learning mathematics during online learning. Online learning develops many problem in students. Action Research conducted by me helps to analyse the problem and suggest remedial measures for it.

Action Research helps me to identify and understand various steps for conducting the research. Also it helps to identify the importance of a teacher and it reminds me that teacher is a researcher.
